2009 Primo Estate La Biondina Colombard

(la bee-on-dee-nah : (n) the young blonde)

At Primo Estate we've always known that blondes have more fun, our own classy 'little blonde' La Biondina, has sashayed through 28 vintages winning compliments and bringing fun wherever she goes.

For the 2009 vintage La Biondina is returning to the original favourite of straight Colombard after a fun few vintages of blending in some Sauvignon Blanc (sorry Sauvignon, she's just not that into you). The mouthwateringly lively, exuberantly fruity palate with juicy passionfruit, melon and citrus flavours is the taste of summer all year round. The 2009 vintage shows the benefit of picking half the fruit in early February to capture its zingy tang and half the fruit well into March when the tropical fruit flavours have come out.

Our little blonde is a popular girl who can make friends with a wide variety of dishes, especially fish, seafood, spicy curry or salads.

Celebrating our 30th anniversary in 2009 Primo Estate is a family owned winery in South Australia's McLaren Vale, combining Joe and Dina Grilli's Italian winemaking heritage with the latest in Australian know-how.
